40 Bible Family Feud-Style Questions (with Answers)

By Paul, dad of 8. Every question here has survived our own family game nights.

Hosting a church game night, youth group hangout, or family game night and need feud-style survey questions with a faith twist? Here are 40 original, church-friendly questions — each with its top answers ranked most-popular first, just like the survey board, and a Bible verse reference wherever a passage backs the answer, so your group can look the story up together. Print this page, or scroll to the bottom to play a fully animated version on your TV for free.

How to play at home or at church

- Split into two teams. Read a question aloud; the first team to buzz in (or shout!) gives an answer.
- Answers are listed most popular first. Score them feud-style: 30 points for the #1 answer, then 25, 20, 15, 10, 5 down the list.
- A team keeps answering until they've found them all — or collected three strikes for answers that aren't on the board. Then the other team can steal with one good answer.
- Keep it grace-filled: the goal is laughter and conversation, not perfect Bible recall.

Common questions

Are these the same as "Family Feud Bible questions"?

Yes — whether you call them family feud Bible questions, Bible feud questions, or survey-style Bible questions, it's the same format: a question everyone can answer, with the most popular answers ranked on a board. All 40 sets above are original, written for church-friendly play.

Do church Family Feud questions work for big groups?

They're ideal for big groups, because nobody needs deep Bible knowledge to guess. For a church-sized crowd, pick two representative teams up front and let each side of the room shout suggestions to their team — or skip the printouts and put the animated board on the projector with the free game linked below.

Can I use these as Bible trivia questions?

Absolutely. Classic Bible trivia questions have one right answer; these have several ranked answers, which is friendlier for mixed-age groups. For a trivia-style round, just award points only for the #1 answer — the verse references make it easy to settle disputes with the Bible itself.

Are they free to print and use?

Yes — print this page (there's a button at the top) and use it freely for your family night, Sunday school class, youth group, or church event.

Faith Family Showdown is an independent game and is not affiliated with, endorsed by, or connected to Fremantle's Family Feud®. "Family Feud" is referenced only to describe the familiar survey-game style.

Want to play these live on a TV?

Faith Family Showdown is a free Bible game show for church and family. The board goes on the TV, two teams play from their phones, and every round ends with a short reflection. Scan the code or visit faithshowdown.com to try it.
